THE VOLCANO.

Hawaii has the most mannerly volcano on earth. When the lava begins to rise towards the summit curves of Mauna Loa it gushes first into the great well of Kilauea, slowly rising from the bottom but never overflowing into the country beyond the outer pit. If there is a great deal of lava it makes its way farther up, breaking through the porous sides of the higher mass and rolling down hill in a country where it does little harm. Martinique and Krakatoa outbreaks do not suit the gentle spirit of Madam Pele. So careful has the old lady been of life and property that the natives say their petitionary offerings are welcome to her and that she pays for white roosters and black pigs with good will and glorious spectacles. However that may be, people who have lived longest under the shadow of Mauna Loa have the least fear of her igneous moods and always, when the lava gushes forth, they go to bed.

There are tourists among us who, deterred by thoughts of far-away Martinique, are inclined to miss the majestic sight which the volcano is beginning to present. But not so with those who know Kilauea best and have seen it in its fiery moods before. They may be trusted as of old to rush to Hawaii and to the Volcano House where, comfortably seated in arm chairs, they can look out upon the light that falls so rarely upon land or sea and watch the flames from Pluto's furnace melt the solid rock and turn it into fountain streams and spray. It is not given to many men on this earth to have such an experience.

Land cables ought to be as practicable as sea cables and much more so than telephone lines in a country where winds are high and strong. There are 1500 miles of desert intervening between French possessions in North Africa and over this the government has contracted to run a furrow in which a cable will be laid. The sand will quickly cover the line and nothing likely to happen in the desert will disturb it. In the flat country in the middle part of the United States where trouble with the wires is so often reported, such a cable would answer a good purpose.

The reputable Democrats of Hawaii will not vote for Wilcox under any circumstances. What the Home Rule element in the party will do, is what they did two years ago. Every party has its quota of Home Rulers and their secret machinations are directed against the welfare of the organization to which they pretend to belong. Doubtless the Democracy will have plenty of trouble with its interior foes but as a party it cannot be governed by them.

Delegate Wilcox's paper says that he "gave up his life several times for the Hawaiian people." It is not known precisely when and how, but he may have lost it once from asphyxiation when he was hiding in the gas tank, and again from heart disease when he was sprinting from Diamond Head to Tantalus.

JURY HAS MUCH TO COMMEND

premises, they were discovered to be in a very filthy condition, more especially the main row of houses, under which the water had collected and stagnated, and at every stairway leading to the main side of the house was found a slop hole, which in our opinion, would have been alive with germs in a very short while, also that the cubic air space ordinance was violated in a number of instances.

Kalihi Detention Camp was found to be in excellent shape, both as to sanitary conditions and cleanliness, and we heartily approve of the course pursued by the Government in the maintenance of this camp, under the present conditions, and further, that we think the location and arrangements for this institution are first class.

Kalihi Receiving Station for Lepers was inspected by the Grand Jury August 26, 1902, and as a whole was found to be in as good a condition as financial circumstances of the Board of Health would permit, and taking into consideration the nature of the affliction, the inmates are apparently well cared for and seemed to be satisfied, and further, that the institution had the appearance of being in the hands of people competent of handling it.

The Non-Leperous Girls' Home was next visited, and while the present location is not such that it can be made attractive in the way of plants or flowers, and does not offer any pastime or occupation for the children, still the little ones were all contented and happy, and for the Catholic Sisters in charge, there can be nothing but praise for the manner in which the children are taught, and the interest that is taken in their behalf. We would add, however, that the quarters as a whole are very cramped and small, and that the funds for building a room or two onto the main building should be forthcoming from some source, as such accommodations are absolutely necessary. We further recommend that a similar institution be established for boys.

The Reform School was also visited and found in good order. Everything was neat and good wholesome food supplied to the boys, and in answer to questions regarding their surroundings, they all appeared satisfied with the treatment accorded them. We would, however, respectfully recommend that a few more beds be supplied, as we found some of the boys were compelled to sleep on the floor for want of proper accommodations.

In our inspection of Public Buildings, we have seen many other improvements that are necessary, but realizing the scarcity of funds at the present time, we have refrained from making recommendations only in cases where absolutely necessary.

The Grand Jury also begs to draw this Honorable Court's attention to the cases of Manuel Peter age 17, Daniel Ea age 14, and Apua age 14, arrested and committed to the Oahu Prison on May 2, 1902, for stealing a small amount of copper from the Rapid Transit Co. to await indictment by the Grand Jury; and would say that up to the date of our visit to the Prison, August 21, 1902, although indicted, we understand, by the last Grand Jury, these boys had not had a trial.

It seems that the proper place for them would have been the Reform School, instead of committing them to Prison for three and a half months to await a hearing, there to be thrown amongst men already adepts at the offences for which probably they are held. And we recommend that these three boys be released at once, as the time that they have already spent in jail seems to be in excess of the gravity of the offence committed or the value of the articles stolen.

The Grand Jury from observation and matters that have been brought to their attention, very seriously disapprove of the closing of the small beer saloons, and they are confident that it only means that a drink of the vilest nature is substituted, and further, that the government is deprived of much revenue and at the same time put to an additional expense in the prosecution of criminal cases originating through the use of these substitutes for beer.

The one of our number who was selected as Clerk, has been regular in attendance, and most faithful in the discharge of his duties, and we ask this Honorable Court that he be compensated for his services.

We also desire to express our thanks to the Attorney-General's Department for the painstaking manner in which the cases have been presented to us, and the expediency with which they have been handled.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Dated Honolulu, August 28, 1902.
GEO. T. KLUEGEL,
Foreman Grand Jury, August Term, 1902.

Judge Gear thanked the members of the jury for their long and earnest work especially after the financial condition of the courts had been reported to them. By reason of this action the court had been able to go ahead and receive the indictments, otherwise some of the men would have been confined until March. Judge Gear said he would take cognizance of the matters reported and that the suggestions made should receive proper and immediate attention, particularly at the insane asylum. "It is not right that the inmates of the insane asylum should not have beds to sleep upon," said the court, "and they should be furnished immediately. Some day there will be a fire at the asylum and people will wonder why the inmates couldn't get out, and the only reason will be that the doors were locked and couldn't be opened."

"It isn't right that these boys should be kept in prison for three months or at all. What right has the police department to keep them there?"

Mr. Douthitt stated that the boys had been indicted and pleaded guilty, but later changed their pleas to not guilty, and had never been up for trial. Mr. Cathcart added that there was no place to keep them but in prison, as no accommodations were provided at the police station.

"Let them out, then," replied Gear, "you can't keep them in prison when they are not guilty. I suppose it's because they stole from the Rapid Transit Co. If the government don't take some action I will. The papers can raise all the row they want to. I am doing my duty. It is an outrage for the Attorney-General's Department to send these boys to prison when even the district magistrate shouldn't send them there."

Mr. Cathcart explained that the boys were not in prison, but were kept separate and did no work, as was done also with witnesses both territorial and United States. There were no accommodations for prisoners awaiting trial at the station and they had to be kept somewhere. Gear replied that it was the business of the government to furnish some place, and added that the Territory wasn't bankrupt, but only the courts. Cathcart finally said that in the case of these boys he believed they had been sufficiently punished and that he would enter a nolle prosequi this morning. With this the discussion ended. Judge Gear further announced to the grand jury that they would have to wait until money was provided for their pay and to settle the bills contracted. Besides jury fees, there are bills for bailiff, clerk hire and carriage hire.

M'CULLY TRACT SOLD AT AUCTION

The McCully tract, consisting of 148 acres, was sold at public auction yesterday in order to satisfy a judgment in the sum of $130,000 obtained by the Queen's Hospital against the Waikiki Land & Loan Association.

Oscar White representing the McCully Land Co. bought the property for $66,000 but it is understood that the claim of the Queen's Hospital will be satisfied in full by the purchasers. Lorin Andrews, appearing for J. M. McChesney, announced that the sale would be subject to his appeal from Judge Humphreys' order allowing the foreclosure. White was the only bidder at the sale though there was a large representation of attorneys and real estate men.

The McCully Land Co. which now owns the property was especially organized to take over the tract and will exploit it, having ample capital for that purpose.

FUNGUS DISEASE KILLS MOSQUITOES

LANSING, Mich., August 16.—Prof. R. H. Pettitt, of the State Agricultural College, has been studying the mosquito problem in Michigan. Bronson Barlow, his assistant, has made a remarkable discovery.

While examining mosquito-breeding ponds he found that in one pool the banks were lined with the bodies of dead mosquitoes, killed by a fungus disease. This disease is closely related to the one that kills flies in the autumn, attaching to window panes. The mosquitoes are attached to the surface upon which they die by filaments of the fungus extending from the body of the insect which filaments bind it firmly in place. The body of the insect first becomes fully occupied by the vegetative mycelium of the fungus, after which the growth appears on the outside, completely covering the mosquito with a white shroud. Upon the surface of this white covering spores, which serve as seed, are born and forcibly ejected into the air for some distance, and, coming in contact with other mosquitoes, infect them.

An attempt is being made to introduce the disease into other ponds.

Pains in the Back

Are symptoms of a weak, torpid or stagnant condition of the kidneys or liver, and are a warning it is extremely hazardous to neglect, so important is a healthy action of these organs.

They are commonly attended by loss of energy, lack of courage, and sometimes by gloomy foreboding and despondency.

"I had pains in my back, could not sleep and when I got up in the morning felt worse than the night before. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and now I can sleep and get up feeling rested and able to do my work. I attribute my cure entirely to Hood's Sarsaparilla." Mrs. J. N. PERAY, care H. S.
